

Satellite Radio is a service offered by companies that I currently pay for. I like the current programming that is available to me by XM Satellite Radio and I do not think the government should influence what services this company is able to provide me. The traffic and weather reports are relied upon by myself to plan my day and my commute. I am unable to get a similar level of service through the local radio stations and rely on XM to provide this information that is not available elsewhere.